

Hans Jürgen Müller
Director
ATEC
Training Centre
Portugal

Curriculum Vitae

Director at ATEC-Training Academy in Portugal since 2004.

Born in Bonn/Germany in 1957, he graduated in Economics at the Johann Wolfgang Goethe University Frankfurt in 1984. MBA in e-Business in 2001 and International Business Administration in 2008.

He started his career at GRAMM/GREY, advertising agency, in Düsseldorf/Germany in 1984. He moved in 1988 to Hoechst, pharmaceutical sector, in order to work in Portugal. In Portugal, he moved again and worked in management positions during 15 years for Siemens Portugal, infrastructure and services sectors, in Communications, Marketing, Human Resources, between 1989 and 2004, and as Project leader for Siemens in the foundation of ATEC, since 2002.

ATEC-Training Academy is a private Portuguese association (Public Utility). Promoters are Volkswagen Autoeuropa, Siemens Portugal, Bosch Portugal and AHK (German Chamber of Commerce). ATEC is Training and Consultancy Provider for the Promoters, as well as, for more than 60 companies of the Portuguese value chain for industry production.

ATEC is known as international reference and benchmark in Volkswagen Group for Professional Training. In the Duales Ausbildungssystem (dual education system) young Portuguese people can choose between a variety of technical apprenticeship occupations. In ATEC, the dual education system combines vocational education and apprenticeships in one course inside the installations of the Training Academy.

ATEC international competences are Planning and Construction Management of new Training Centres, Operation of High Standards Training Centres, and Development of Innovative Training Curricula for Technical Professions.